October 17, 2016

Dear Station Manager:

As we round the final corner in this historic race to Election Day, we are increasingly inundated with voices and opinions from all sides of the media. Now more than ever, it’s imperative we look first and foremost to the Word of God for the wisdom we need in making decisions that will impact millions of lives and shape the future of our country.

This November on Know The Truth, Philip De Courcy takes listeners through Romans 13 in his series called The Politics of a Citizen of Heaven. He outlines the duty of Christians to obey, respect and participate in government as honorable citizens. He also encourages Christians to be salt and light in the public square.

Though our choices may not be ideal, Philip provides the timely reminder that God is still on His throne no matter what happens on Election Day.

On November 9, Know The Truth picks back up in the Courage Under Fire series. Listeners will learn valuable lessons from the life and times of the Prophet Elijah, a man of prayer and courage who continually trusted in God despite the opposition. This series demonstrates how God refines His people through challenging trials … and offers encouragement to those going through difficult seasons of life.

At the end of the month, the broadcast features a brand-new series titled Matters of Life and Death. Philip presents a rational and biblical perspective on important issues continually debated in the culture and in courts—topics such as abortion, suicide, and euthanasia.

This year, Philip has been focusing on engaging in events that allow him to build personal connections with listeners of Know The Truth.

On November 4, Philip will be speaking at the Second Annual Know the Truth Radio Rally in Canal-Winchester, Ohio, hosted by Freedom FM.

November 10, the Know the Truth Men’s Leadership Conference takes place at Kindred Community, in Anaheim Hills, California. If you are interested in having Philip speak at one of your events, please reach out to our team.

Thank you for your continued partnership in delivering the bold and convicting messages of Know the Truth to men and women in your community.

Sincerely,

Jessica Suggs, Melissa Carlson and Jessie Jolliff

The Politics of a Citizen of Heaven
Airing November 1 – November 8, 2016

In this timely series leading right up to Election Day, Philip presents listeners a biblical worldview of the responsibilities of the government to its citizens and the citizen’s responsibilities to the government.

Teaching primarily from Romans 13:1-7, he reminds all Christians that their primary citizenship is in heaven and therefore kingdom priorities should inform and reform their political thinking and actions.

Courage Under Fire
Airing November 9 – November 24, 2016

This brand-new study of First Kings provides insight on how to stand up for God’s truth in our world today. Philip challenges listeners to rededicate themselves to the Lord, sharing the love and grace of the Gospel with the world around them.

Matters of Life and Death
Airing November 25 – December 12, 2016

This brand-new series will explore the important issues of abortion, suicide, euthanasia, and capital punishment. Listeners will be presented with a clear and biblical perspective upon which to evaluate the shifting values of our secular culture, as the courts continue to redefine right and wrong on matters of life and death.
